

With a Law degree from the University of Exeter, you'll be able to:

- Meet the requirements set by the Law Society and Bar Council for the academic stage of legal training
- Demonstrate a thorough knowledge of the foundations of English and EU law
- Apply the principles of law to analyse and solve problems and provide practical advice
- Prepare and present an argument based on logical reasoning and with authority
- Identify, locate and evaluate legal materials
- Demonstrate transferrable skills relating to communication, organisation, teamwork and critical reasoning.

Where can your degree take you?

Skills, expertise and knowledge gained via a Law degree are important if you want to pursue a career in the legal profession or the wider world of business such as finance, administration and commerce.

A first degree in Law will also give you excellent transferable skills that can make you appealing to a wide range of employers, as well as preparing you for further study.

These are the kind of jobs, employers, and further study programmes that our recent Law graduates have gone on to successfully pursue.

Occupations

- Attorney
- Assistant Solicitor
- Paralegal
- Probation Officer
- Personal Injury Case Handler
- Recruitment Consultant
- Graduate Trainee
- Compliance Analyst
- Business Start-up Coordinator
- Case Screener
- Conveyancer
- Charity Fundraiser

Employers

- Ernst and Young
- UNICEF
- Microsoft
- International Criminal Court
- Deloitte
- Chesterton Humberts
- Lyons Davidson Solicitors
- Nalders LLP
- Marsh and Parsons
- Yahoo! Europe
- Ralph Lauren
- Kinsey Allen International

Further study

- Legal Practice Certificate
- Bar Vocational Training Course
- LLM International Commercial law
- LLM International Human Rights Law
- MA Diplomatic Studies
- MA Public Administration
- LLM Maritime Law
- LLM Masters of Law
- MSc Sustainable Development
- Medicine