

From a total of 7235 secondary schools in Turkey and a rapidly expanding sector in private education, Education UK recognizes that this list is in no way definitive. From visits to the country and feedback from agents, the University of Exeter have outlined (in Appendix 2) schools who do not feature in the Education UK list that should be considered. Both lists should be used in conjunction with a student's transcript marks, English score, class ranking and school references. Top Turkish students from these schools with a good command of English should be capable of direct first year university entrance, while the majority of students should enter a foundation year.
