A Sculpture Walk on the Streatham Campus

Exeter University's Streatham Campus with its arboretum, ponds and gardens is widely acknowledged as one of the most beautiful in the country.

There are 24 sculptures situated in this unique setting both in the open and in University buildings. The walk includes sculptures by Barbara Hepworth and Paul Mount together with other renowned artists.

*Difficult to view during Forum building work.
 §On loan from Autumn 2010.

Number 6 (Reclining Connected Forms) was returned to the Henry Moore Foundation in 2007.

Our Sculpture Walk iPod gives more information on the sculptures. It can be hired, free of charge, from the Main Library, 9am–4pm Monday–Friday.

The full walk takes approximately two hours and can be viewed on weekdays from 9am–6pm. A walk around the outdoor sculptures only will take approximately one hour. Parts of the walk are not suitable for wheelchair users.

Please note that some of the sculptures may be moved to new locations because of the building work for the Forum Project.
