

eXfactor – You Said We Did

See how we responded to last year's feedback about eXfactor below:

You said	We did
The chance to meet and learn from people who might be employing You in the future	Employers and alumni, relevant to graduate level recruitment, who will be presenting and engaging in Q&As at most of our eXfactor sessions in 2014/15
A change of structure to keep the momentum of the sessions	We revised the activities and programme producing a jam-packed one day event
A clearer purpose to activities	Activities based on those at assessment centres, real world advice about what to do to gain your graduate job, and what to expect from employers
Information to be subject specific	We are working with your College to ensure that speakers are from sectors relevant to your discipline and we will continue to signpost to where you can receive the best information for careers related to your degree
Reduced waiting time when purchasing lunch	We negotiated an additional venue in Devonshire House for you to purchase food
Fewer student presentations	The number of presentations by students has been reduced
Fewer PowerPoints used by facilitators	The number of PowerPoint slides has been reduced
That you still didn't feel confident career planning	We have added an action planning section to the end of the day for you to plan your next steps
