

Programme Index

Strand	Workshop	Campus / Online	PGR Stage	RDF Domain
				A1	A2	A3	B1	B2	B3	C1	C2	C3	D1	D2	D3
Researcher Development Essentials	Planning ahead: developing yourself and your skills		Early
	Starting your thesis: preparing for your literature review		Early
	Project managing your research degree		Early
	Working effectively with your supervisors		Early
	Maintaining momentum and focus after your upgrade		Mid
	Managing research relationships		Mid
	Preparing for your viva: WEBINAR and panels		Late
Career Development Essentials	Resilient career planning		Early
	Mapping and marketing your skills		Mid
	Building your networks		Late
	Applying for post doctoral funding		Late
Data	How do I manage my research data?		Early
	ArcGIS		Any
	Matlab		Any
	Nvivo		Any
	SPSS		Any
	Stata		Any
	Python		Any
	Latex		Any
	Linux		Any
Sharing Your Research	Writing conference abstracts		Early
	Designing research posters		Early
	Presentation skills for researchers		Early
	Communicating your research in creative ways		Early
	An Introduction to the publishing process		Early
	What is open access?		Early
	Write a journal article		Mid
	Communicating your research to the media		Mid
Writing	Academic writing for research degrees		Any
	Getting creative with your writing		Any
	Argue to think		Any
	Write a chapter: reduce academic writing anxiety		Early
	Writing your thesis		Mid
	Writing group facilitator training		Mid
	Write club		Late
	Writing retreat		Late

PGR Stages

Early - within the initial stages of their research degree, i.e. the first 1-2 years or pre-upgrade.

Mid - those in the middle stages of their research degree, i.e. 2-3 years or post-upgrade.

Late - those who have finished data collection and are entering the writing-up stage of their research degree.