

We all feel alone, or uneasy sometimes in life, especially when everything is new or there is a big assignment coming up. Our online book society finds that curling up with a book can help in situations like this.

Through our Tumblr account we like to share poems and short stories and discuss them with everyone, especially freshers at the University of Exeter. Feel free to go on our website, read, listen and comment.

We would like to help you in any way we can. Hope to hear from you soon!

Here is the link: <https://blogfreshreads.tumblr.com/>

And don't forget the Wellbeing Centre is always there for you, if you need: <http://www.exeter.ac.uk/wellbeing/>