

Welcome to the Gumtree of the food world.

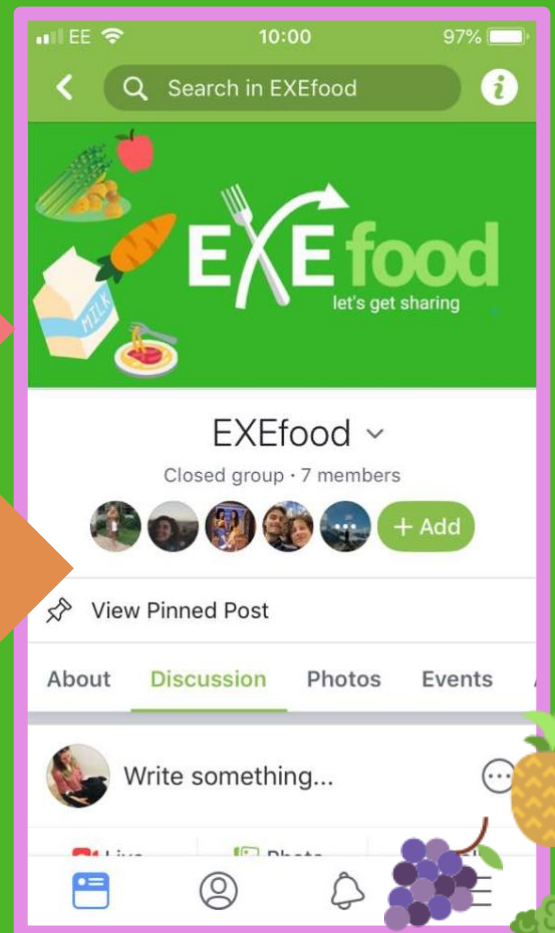

Have you overestimated your cooking this evening and have enough to feed a family of four?

Have you bought random items to reach the £40 goal on your Tesco delivery and need to get rid of all that fresh food?

Is it the end of term and you're finding yourself eating frozen curly fries, peas and burgers for days in order to get rid of your freezer staples?

How does it work?

- Create a post of the food you have on offer to give away
- Say where the food can be picked up and when
- Include details of ingredients if needed
- Include a use by date
- Suggest swapping ingredients
