Modern city with a rich history

Vibrant and student-friendly, Exeter is a compact city with lots to do. Take a tour of the city centre to explore the cobbled streets – the inspiration for Harry Potter's Diagon Alley for University of Exeter alumni, J. K. Rowling – or the historic Gothic Cathedral and Roman ruins. The Quayside is a popular destination with beautiful architecture and is the ideal place to browse shops, take a boat trip, or find something to eat.

Entertainment day or night

The city's large student population and its many festivals ensure a buzzing atmosphere. You'll be kept busy with theatre, cinema and music, bringing something different to Exeter every night. Follow big-name acts at the Exeter Phoenix, watch art-house cinema at the Picturehouse, or catch up with friends in the Victoria Inn. During the day, check out stunning displays at the Royal Albert Memorial Museum and modern art at Spacex.

Stay connected

A good bus and train network makes it easy to explore the region and beyond. You can be in London in just over 2 hours by train, and with a regional airport not far from the city, you can explore Europe and the rest of the UK too.

Foodie heaven

You'll be spoilt with a selection of local produce at the weekly Farmers' Market and you'll also find many restaurants offering international cuisine. Try Tyepyedong for noodles, Al-Farid for Moroccan food and Thai Orchid for authentic Thai dishes. Don't forget to explore British culture and have a traditional cream tea in the Cathedral Café. There's even an annual food festival where you can try out the best food the region offers.

High street favourites

The city centre and the modern Princesshay shopping centre are home to big-brand stores and smaller boutiques. Spend some time exploring the West Quarter, full of independent stores and vintage shops. Gandy Street, lined with gift shops and jewellers, offers something a bit different.
